“Does not Wisdom call, and Understanding raise her voice?” ~ Proverbs 8.

Dear friends of Bridge of Hope Girls School-Liberia:

The school year will end June 15th for the 220 girls enrolled at BOH. Some students may find they need to take a few more classes at the school during the Summer months for remedial learning. But most will begin to enjoy a well-earned vacation. The end of the school year is an exciting time, for it means quizzing competitions, both in Bible and academics. Historically, the teams from BOH have done exceptionally well in these meets against scholars, both male and female, from neighboring schools in Matadi, the suburb of Monrovia where the school is located. In fact, as of this writing, the team from BOH remains unbeaten, having defeated five other schools, often by overwhelming margins! One more victory and the trophy for excellence will be theirs!

There is also exciting news concerning our staff. This year, in addition to their teaching duties, seven of our teachers furthered their educations by graduating from the Liberian Cooperative Standard Education School System (LICOSESS). Their certificates and degrees will improve their teaching skills and enable them to assume more administrative functions. Congratulations to all!

Seven BOH Teachers graduate from LICOSESS

None of these exciting developments would be possible without your continued prayer and financial support. THANK YOU! At a time of increased financial pressures and costs of living, it is sobering to remember that $115 supports a teacher at BOH for an entire month, while $1380 pays a teacher's salary for an entire year! Your donations, now and into the future, support the students and those who guide them, ensuring a quality Christian education for underprivileged girls in Liberia, West Africa.

Blessings!
